Musa and John are siblings. Musa is older than John. They both go to school at Peru Primary School. It is located in Simbe Sub-county. They go to school on foot every morning. After school, they also walk back home on foot.

One day Musa and John were walking back home at 4:00p.m. As they were walking back home, they met a boy from another school. His name was Dumba. Dumba was a naughty boy. He used to advise other children from school to engage in bad behaviour. This included stealing people's mangoes, abusing people and throwing stones at people walking on the road. Musa joined Dumba in his bad behaviour that day. Dumba convinced Musa to go and steal mangoes from an old man's mango tree. This tree had a lot of ripe mangoes. John advised his brother not to join Dumba but he refused to listen.

When the two boys climbed the mango tree, John decided to sit at the road side. Musa was the first person to climb then Dumba the next. As they were picking the mangoes, Musa saw a very big snake that was resting on one of the branches on the tree. He was so scared that he tried to move away to avoid the snake. As he was trying to move away, he slipped off and fell down on a stone. His arm got broken.

Musa shouted for help. His brother heard him crying. He ran quickly to check on him. He found Musa lying down in great pain. John ran to the road and called for help. Musa was taken to the hospital and given first aid. Since then Musa has never joined bad peer groups while walking to and from home.
